William Armstrong Esq
Dear Sir

When leaving here with the remains of your dear son for home, you requested me to write to you when the bill of the Undertaker should become due, and as July 1st is the limited time I thought it best to drop you a line to remind you of the fact. you can remit to me the amount or send direct to Mr Soards, just as you feel about that —

I hope your other son is alive and will please inform me where he is, should he come here sick or wounded, I shall do all I can for him, for the love I bear his departed brother, I shall never forget the cool, and gentle countenance and winning bearing of lamented Wilber, with my kindest regard to yourself and family I remain very truly your Sympathizing friend

Dear Sir

When leaving here with the remains of your dear Son for home, you requested me to write to you when the bill of the undertaker should become due and as July 1st is the limited time, I thought it best to drop you a line to remind you of the fact. You can remit to me the amount or send direct to Mr. Soards just as you feel about that.

I hope your other son is alive and will please inform me where he is. Should he come here sick or wounded, I shall do all I can for him, for the love I gave his departed brother. I shall never forget the lovely and gentle countenance and coming bearing of lamented Wilber. With kindest regards to yourself and family, I remain very truly your sympathetic friend.
