Dear Sir

Mr Dewey recd. papers of the 9th inst are glad to hear from you & inasmuch as Mr Dewey is again sick in bed he requested me to answer your friendly letter he received your apology <sup>about the book</sup> in good spirit & says he did not intend or wish to hurt your feelings or that the whole thing ends & you will go on & do the best you can instructing those poor fellows to obedience Mr Dewey I believe has been sick with a slow fever since ~~last~~ Monday he is better to day Bro Wambough preached for us yesterday a good discourse on Pauls long battle between the opinions I read to Mr Hayden the few lines you entered for him he seemed pleased in the thought of getting the whole library

Yours &c
S. Bradford
