of good feeling shown by the citizens of these towns, without distinction of Church or party. The Methodist, Presbyterians, and Episcopalians seemed to be equally cordial in their donations, and many good wishes, are offered for your success. I shall probably send a few more volumes between this, and Conference. As I see this morning that there are three small volumes mentioned in the bill, which were not packed. These I will try to send, with four or five others which are promised. I hope the blessing of the Lord will continue to rest upon your labours. I would remark some of these books were given by post previous, but they seemed to rejoice at the very thought of doing something in so good a cause. The five volumes of "Youngs works" sent by Hon Isaac Humphrey, as a special token of regard to yourself, I hope will be acknowledged, as he, though an old man, is a young member of the Church. I shall be happy to hear from you at any time, as I esteem a line from any of our aged brethren, as a special favor. and any labour which I may be able, at any time, to perform for either your personal convenience, or the good of your charge will be cheerfully done. Yours in Affection
