

Ohio Wesleyan University
Digital Commons @ OWU

Finley Letters

James B. Finley Letters

1-29-1847

Letter from Adam Miller to James B. Finley

Adam Miller

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.owu.edu/finley-letters>

Recommended Citation

Miller, Adam, "Letter from Adam Miller to James B. Finley" (1847). Finley Letters. 1149.
<https://digitalcommons.owu.edu/finley-letters/1149>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the James B. Finley Letters at Digital Commons @ OWU. It has been accepted for inclusion in Finley Letters by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ OWU. For more information, please contact earutigl@owu.edu.

Rev. J. B. Finley
Columbus Ohio

New
Chambers
Sty
1841
Joseph
H. Finley

B 5
0 8 3
D 0 0
2 1 1 2

No 84 - Box

New York Jan. 29th 1847

Dear Bro. Finley:-

I received your truly welcome letter a few days ago, and we were very glad to hear from you. I should have replied immediately but have been exceedingly busy day and night for sometime past, for when I am not preaching for the Germans here they keep me all the leisure time I can get to preach in English in the different church, I have preached more or less in most of the principal churches in the city, and feel myself just as much at home preaching here as I would in the most retired place in the western country. Methodism is the same here that it is in the west. We have a good work among the Germans here now. Some Convocation every week for some time past. There is a very fine state of things in a number of the churches here now, there have been a great many conversions this winter.

You are favourably known, and affectionately remembered by many of the old preachers here.

And although as you say you are now confined within the narrow walls of the State prison, administering instruction to its unfortunate inmates. Yet the influence of your past labours are felt abroad, far and wide. Your tract on Temperance, which you wrote for The C. Apologist some years ago, and which I had Stereotyped and published in tract form in Baltimore last year, has been circulated extensively among the grocers in Baltimore and also in this place I have but few on hand now.

but I have the plates, and think I will get ~~them~~ ^{some more} struck off soon, I do not know how they could be sent to you. I would sell the plates for $2. They cost me I think $6 They make 4 pages

I could send the plates to Cincinnati by Adams and Co. Express or to Columbus for about $1.50 or $2. I offer them thus cheap because I think the tract should be circulated through the west among the distilleries. If I get some more printed here I will endeavor to send some to Cincinnati. But they have already cost me considerable and I never realized a cent from ^{them} they had been published for gratuitous distribution because I thought they ought to be circulated.

The cause of temperance is prospering here, I send you a paper containing an advertisement which I wish you to read and then send the paper to my old friend J McDowell, I do not know his address for I would send him one. He has never written to me since I left Ohio. I am always glad to hear from the preachers of the Ohio Conference and would be exceedingly glad to visit your conference next fall if I could possibly get off but I do not see how I can leave here that length of time. We are all well and well pleased with New York

Our love to you and yours, (to Bro.
Moody and any other of the preachers you may see that would like to hear from me
Yours affectionately

A. Miller

P.S. I am anxious to make a communication to brother McDowell and as I do not know his address I enclose a few lines to him in this letter and you will greatly oblige me to send it to him, as I presume you know his address. You will please direct the letter to it will reach him

Yours &c
A. Miller